

ASAE07 - ANNUAL SYMPOSIUM FOR ARCHITECTURE AND EDUCATION 2007

När ASAE arrangeras för femte gången har turen kommit till att diskutera behovet av en praktiskt inriktad forskning. "Creative Research" syftar på interaktionen och sammankopplingen mellan teori och praktik inom arkitektur. Varför behövs detta? Vad syftar det till? Vilka fördelar finns? Vilka svårigheter? Kan man eliminera den skepticism som råder inom svensk arkitekturforskning och som präglar den akademiska miljön?

ASAE - FÖR ATT SKAPA MÖTESPLATSER

Symposiet inleder varje läsår med avsikten att diskutera arkitektens roll i förhållande till internationella och nationella frågeställningar kring arkitektur och arkitektutbildning. Som vanligt kommer stor vikt läggas vid att föra ett samtal där publiken ges stora möjligheter att delta. Syftet med ASAE är att skapa en unik plattform där både lokala och internationella arkitekter, lärare, arkitektstudenter och allmänheten får möjligheten att interagera och delta i en vital diskussion om arkitektur och design.

EN INTERNATIONELL DISKUSSION

ASAE07 börjar på fredagen den 31 augusti med en slutkritik av tvåveckorskursen Internationell Workshop där studenter i åk 3 visar sina projekt. På lördagen den 1:a september fortsätter ASAE07 med föreläsningar, diskussioner och symposiet. Årets panel består av Sir Peter Cook, Hernán Diaz Alonso, Marcos Novak, Sulan Kolatan, William MacDonald, Tiina Sarap, Maria Nyström, Simon Herron, Helle Juul, Lars Lerup och Halina Dunin. Moderator är Prof. Morten Lund.

Förra årets tema var "Architects of Clarity". Panelen bestod av Peter Cook, Odile Decq, Itskuko Hasegawa, Helle Juul, Kathryn Findlay, Christine Hawley, Ellen Dunham-Jones, Eva yifeng Wang och Tina Sarap.

MARCOS NOVAK

<http://www.centrifuge.org/>

Professor Marcos Novak, currently based at the University of California Santa Barbara holding a joint appointment in the Department of Art and the Media Art and Technology graduate program, is a trans-architect, cyberspace visionary, digital artist, writer and theorist. His work is globally recognized as groundbreaking, unique and progressive as it emphasises new platforms for virtual space, cyberspace architecture and generative computational composition in architecture and design.

HALINA DUNIN-WOYSETH

<http://www.aho.no>

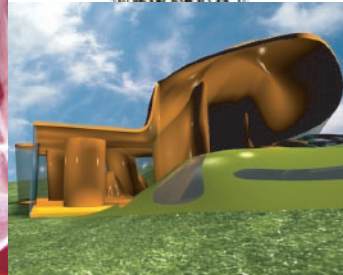

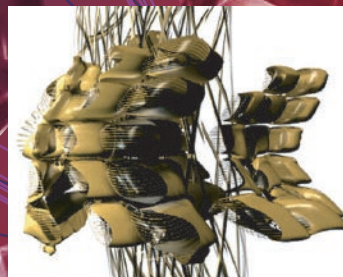

Dr. Halina Dunin-Woyseth is an architect and professor at the Oslo School of Architecture and Design (AHO). For 17 years she has been the founding head of AHO's Doctoral Programme with over 40 PhD students recruited from various professions such as artists, designers, architects and engineers. Since 1991 she has also edited the AHO publication Research Magazine, which documents the development of vocational and research education in the design professions.

KOLATAN/MACDONALD

<http://www.kolmacllc.com/>

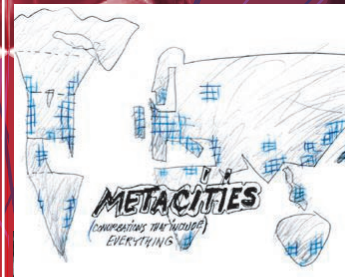

Working together as Studio Kolatan/MacDonald since 1988, the New York-based Sulan Kolatan and William MacDonald share an interest in the technological and economic phenomena that affect cultural transformations. They have exhibited at the Museum of Modern Art and the Centre Pompidou. Recent projects include three residences and a video game environment in Tokyo. MacDonald is the co-director of the core studios at Columbia's School of Architecture, where Kolatan teaches.

LARS LERUP

http://arch.rice.edu/~\(people>Lerup\))

Professor Lars Lerup is Dean at Rice School of Architecture in Houston, Texas. He was promoted doctor of technology honoris causa at Lund University in 2002 and awarded a distinguished professorship by the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture in 2003. Lars Lerup is also active as an architect in Texas and in Switzerland. He is an appreciated visiting lecturer and with his help students at LTH have been given the opportunity to engage in "STARS", a design project run by NASA.

HERNÁN DIAZ ALONSO

<http://www.xefirotarch.com/>

Professor Hernán Diaz Alonso is the founder of Xefirotarch, an award winning design firm in Architecture, Product and Digital Motion based in Los Angeles. He is considered one of the most influential voices of his generation. For the last several years he has been a studio design and visual studies professor and is the Thesis coordinator at SCI-Arc, Los Angeles. He is also design studio professor at the GSAPP - Columbia University, New York and visiting professor at Universitat fur angewandte Kunst Wien.
